

Service Charge Policy

Date approved: 07/11/2024

Service charges are payments you make to us for providing and maintaining additional services and benefits that are separate from your normal rent charge.

Costs are included on your tenancy agreement at signup or sent to you following a consultation process. We charge variable service charges which means that costs can change.

Service charges are based on an estimated cost for the year and are charged weekly with your rent. Once the actual costs are known, any over or underpayments will be recovered or repaid in future years.

Service charges are set on the first working day of April and will remain unchanged for the rest of the year. Annual statements will be provided to notify you of the charges for the year. If a service is permanently discontinued, charges will be adjusted within the same year.

Where services relate to a block or estate that affects you and others, charges will be calculated using fair methods to share the costs between all residents. The charge will apply regardless of whether you use the service.

If a service is temporarily paused, the charge will not be adjusted in the same year. Any refund resulting from variable charges calculations will be issued in future years.

We aim to be open and honest if we develop a new service or are requested to provide a new one, we will consult with you before making a decision. A new service charge cost will be payable from the date the new service starts.

Admin fees of up to 15% may also apply.

When you move into a new home with a service charge, it's important to remember that you will need to pay it, even if you didn't have one at your previous address.

Complaints about service charges must be resolved using the First Tier Tribunal (Property Chamber). On any matters relating to payment or reasonableness of service charges. Contact the Property Chamber on:
